West Still Split on Policy Over Berlin Action

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers were reported still unable to agree today on a policy of unified action toward the Communist challenge in Berlin.

There were many indications that the United States, Britain and France were finding it difficult to agree on a plan of action if, and when, Soviet Premier Khrushchev unleashes a definite proposal for dismantling the four-power regime for the city.

Khrushchev declared two weeks ago that the Soviet Union was ready to pull out of the four-power setup, a leftover from the victorious Allies' cooperation in Germany, and leave the Western powers on their own in dealing with the East Germans.

The West's dilemma was how far to go in dealing with Moscow's East German satellite. Despite official denials, reports persisted here, in London, in Washington and in Bonn that the British see less danger in such dealing than do the Americans, French or West Germans.

The West German government in Bonn is opposed to any Western dealings with the East German Reds. It favors the use of tanks to break down the barricades and fighting planes to protect an airlift if the East Germans get tough about letting supplies through to the 10,000 British, American and French troops holding the island of West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

The West's uncertainty seemed to stem partly from the fact it

Bomb Explodes in New Orleans Parking Lot

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — FBI agents and police sought today to determine whether an attempted safe-cracking at Rabouin Vocational School was linked with a bomb explosion at a nearby public school medical building.

The homemade but powerful bomb exploded Sunday night in an outside metal ventilator in front of a parking spot used by Dr. James F. Redmond, superintendent of New Orleans public schools.

The medical building, Rabouin School and the school board's central administrative office are located in the same area in downtown New Orleans.

FBI agents who had been called into the bombing investigation, were again asked to aid police in investigation of the attempted safe-cracking.

The would-be safe crackers satored when a metal cabinet in which the school safe is located, but failed to open the safe.

No one was hurt by the blast, which took place at the spot where Dr. James F. Redmond, superintendent of Orleans parish schools, parks his car.

Redmond was attending a meeting of the Louisiana Teachers Assn. at Alexandria. His office is in another building nearby.

Officers had no theory about a motive for the bombing which caused minor damage.

U.S. District Court here has ordered the school board to desegregate public schools "with all deliberate speed." No definite time has been set for integration.

The Game and Fish Commission reported 6,342 legal deer kills in Arkansas during the first season and 96 illegal kills. This compares to 5,835 in the first period last year.

Hempstead with 160 kills ranked 10th in the state. The Commission announces new maps are available of public hunting preserves, including the Bois d'Arc area in Hempstead County.

Just send a post card to Game and Fish Commission and name of the area you are interested in and a map will be mailed to you.

State Court Upholds Death Sentence

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld the death sentence of Thomas Walker, Negro, of Blytheville, in the fatal shooting of a West Memphis service station operator.

Walker was convicted and sentenced to electrocution for the shotgun slaying of J. W. Orman during a robbery March 9, 1957.

In a unanimous opinion, the high court conceded Walker was convicted largely on circumstantial evidence. But Chief Justice Carlton Harris wrote, the evidence was sufficient to sustain the conviction.

Two witnesses to the shooting, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith, were unable to identify Walker as the assailant.

Police found a shotgun in Walker's possession and a ballistics expert.

Urges UN Action on Space Plan Without Russia

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States today proposed that the U.N. go ahead without the Soviet Union if the Russians refuse to take part in a proposed international study of outer space cooperation.

The proposal was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who told the U.N.'s 81-National Political Committee he had been unable to reach agreement with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin in private talks.

Lodge said he hoped Zorin would vote for a revised 20-nation resolution which embodies many of the elements in a rival Soviet plan. He added, however, that failure of the Soviet Union to agree should not halt U.N. action.

"We hope the Soviet Union will cooperate," Lodge said. "If the Soviet Union does not take part, I do not think that is a reason to falter. We can still do useful work."

Lodge reported that the United States and the Soviet Union had run into a solid deadlock over the composition of the proposed U.N. committee which would be given the task of working out a permanent agency on the peaceful uses of outer space.

Western diplomats predicted a handsome majority for the 20-nation proposal with or without Soviet support.

Some Asians and Africans expressed doubt that the Russians would sit on the committee, which would report back to the Assembly next year on what the UN should do to promote international cooperation in the study and peaceful use of outer space.

The committee would consist of 12 countries — three Communist, three neutralist and 12 pro-Western. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin has demanded that Communist and neutralist countries together should equal the total of pro-Western countries.

A rival Soviet resolution would establish an 11 nation committee directed to draft a program and rules for a permanent international committee for space research. It would consist of four Communist countries, three neutralist and four Westerns.

The United States and its co-sponsors had been waiting since Friday night for Soviet reaction to the revised version of their original Nov. 13 resolution. They submitted the new draft after Zorin and U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge failed in private talks to agree on composition of the proposed special committee — the main stumbling block to preparation of a single resolution that they could pass unanimously.

Mrs. John Gaines of McCaskill Dies Saturday

Mrs. Violet Gaines, aged 58, a resident of McCaskill, died Saturday afternoon in a Hope hospital.

She was a very active member of McCaskill Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband, John Gaines; three sisters, Mrs. Pudge Bryant of Orange, Texas; Mrs. Constance Reeves of Prescott, Ariz.; Paul Luce of Caropolis, Pa.; two brothers, Guy C. Ames of Hamburg, Crozer Ames of Santa Rosa, Texas.

Funeral services were to be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at McCaskill Methodist Church by the Rev. Bruce Boone. Burial by Cornish Funeral Services was to be in Belmont Cemetery.

"We would like to make it clear," as we begin preparations for the 1959 March of Dimes, that the National Foundation will not abandon polio patients," the director declared. "We have a moral obligation to the patients of this county to continue to provide needed care and rehabilitation, and we will fulfill this obligation."

The director stressed that while solution of the problems of arthritis and birth defects are the immediate new goals of the March of Dimes, the organization also will follow leads as they develop in the fields of virus research and studies of the central nervous system.

A Circuit Court jury Sunday found Jesse Cayson, 59, and Cayson's brother Doyle, 51, guilty of first degree murder in the 1940 killing. It recommended mercy, which means sentences of life imprisonment for both men.

William Dorcas Brown, 49, accused with the Caysons, was acquitted.

A prosecution witness, Mrs. Mattie Lee Taylor Boock of San Antonio, Tex., testified she saw the three defendants in a cafe the night of the slaying and later saw them follow Wilson in a car with lights off.

Mrs. Boock said she was beaten on later that night by an unidentified assailant, who threatened "you" if you don't forget what you saw tonight.

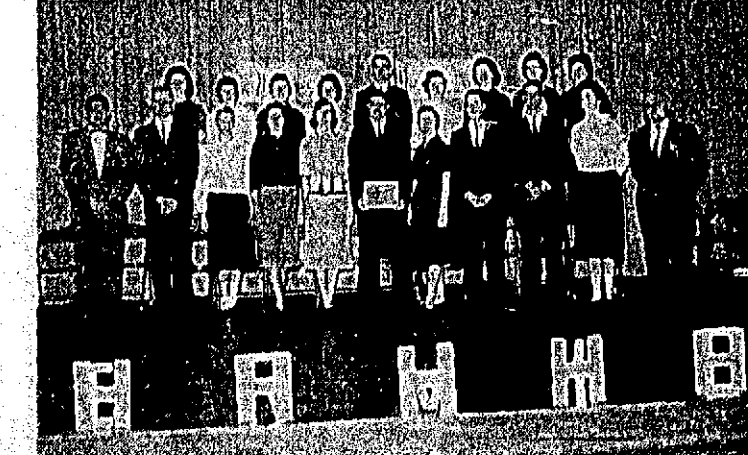

Another prosecution witness, Mrs. Marjorie King of Rocky Mount, N.C., said she heard three men urge Jesse Cayson to go to the state mental hospital at Chatham because they had heard he was going around the county saying he had shot Wilson.

Cayson testified he was sent to the hospital in 1943 because he was "too full of whiskey."

Both Caysons and Brown mentioned they were elsewhere when Wilson was killed.

Ray Hughes Will Head March of Dimes

Raymond Hughes, insurance agent, has been appointed Hempstead County director for the 1959 March of Dimes. It was announced today.

The drive will be held in January.

The polio-fighting organization is expanding into a broad new force that will tackle health problems on a wider front and no longer will confine its activities to a single disease. Initial new goals include arthritis and birth defects (congenital malformations).

"I am confident that the people of Hempstead County, who helped make possible victory over polio through their contributions to the March of Dimes over the past 20 years, will give even greater support to the National Foundation's expanded program in the future," the county director said.

"We would like to make it clear," as we begin preparations for the 1959 March of Dimes, that the National Foundation will not abandon polio patients," the director declared. "We have a moral obligation to the patients of this county to continue to provide needed care and rehabilitation, and we will fulfill this obligation."

Parents of 4 Negro Children Challenged Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ruled that Alabama's school placement law is valid on its face.

It upheld a decision by a special three-judge U.S. District Court in Alabama.

Parents of four Negro children in Birmingham had challenged the placement law and appealed to the Supreme Court to review and reverse the special court.

In a brief order, the Supreme Court said it affirmed the special court judgment "upon the limited grounds on which the District Court rested its decision."

In upholding the Alabama law, the special court said it "furnishes the legal machinery for an orderly administration of the public schools in a constitutional manner by the admission of qualified pupils upon a basis of individual merit without regard to their race or color."

"We must presume that it will be so administered," the special court added. "If not, in some future proceeding it is possible that it may be declared unconstitutional in its application. The responsibility rests primarily upon the local schools boards, but ultimately upon all of the people of the state."

Counsel for the Negroes in their appeal to the high tribunal asserted the purpose and intent of the law was to subvert the rights declared by the Supreme Court in its school segregation decisions.

The Supreme Court's unsigned order indicated that all nine justices agreed. The order was issued on the basis of legal briefs submitted by both sides, and without oral arguments.

Can't Turn Off Ignition, Woman Dies

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A woman drove to her death early today as a policeman in a cruiser vainly tried to tell her how to shut off the ignition of her speeding automobile as it approached a steep hill.

The woman was identified as Myrtle Einhaus, 49.

Officer Elsworth Greiner said he was sitting in a restaurant drinking a cup of coffee when his cruiser was sideswiped. He dashed outside, jumped into his car and gave chase.

"Pull over to the curb," he demanded of the woman driver when he drew alongside.

"I can't stop the car," she cried out.

"I can't stop the car," she cried out.

"Turn off the ignition key," Greiner directed.

"I can't find it," she shouted back.

Approaching cars forced the officer to drop back as the woman reached a hill. There is a turn at the end of the hill. Mrs. Einhaus failed to make it. Her car hit a pole and she was killed.

Widow of Court Justice Dies

Mrs. Stone's survivors include two sons, Lauson H. Stone, a New York attorney, and Prof. Marshall H. Stone of the University of Chicago.

Faubus Says Don't Listen to Leftwingers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval B. Faubus said yesterday Arkansians should not listen to "left-wing communist fermenting," but should work to do good for the state.

Dedicating a new $32,000 vocational rehabilitation building at the McRae Tuberculosis Sanatorium for Negroes, Faubus said people "do not have to belong to any particular race to amount to something."

The governor, a segregationist symbol in the school integration dispute, said that membership in the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People or a white citizens council was not necessarily a sign of a good citizenship.

"The main thing is to be a good American, to be a good citizen of whatever state you live in," Faubus said. He added that people should show "justice and mercy."

Indirectly referring to his own controversial policies, the governor said: "Regardless of how you may feel, I am the governor for all the people of the state and I want to do good for all people."

He said the sooner people "quit listening to left-wing communist fermenting the sooner we can all work for the good of all Arkansians."

Other speakers included Rep. Paul Van Dusen of Perry County, Sen. Marshall Shackelford Jr. of El Dorado and Dr. Hugh A. Browne, superintendent of the sanatorium since 1931.

Browne said the new building housed a library, a grammar school and training facilities in woodworking, cosmetology, leather crafts and upholstery.

Although the institution has a patient population of 367 with 250 more on a waiting list, Browne said, the "most pressing need" was a building for children patients.

Browne said the sanatorium has asked the state for $250,000 for a children's building and facilities for nurses.

Strike to Hamper Travel Turkey Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the Thanksgiving travel rush about to start, a second major airline was struck today. Flight engineers and machinists walked off their jobs at Eastern Air Lines.

Trans World Airline had 200 planes grounded in the fourth day of a strike by 6,700 machinists. American Airlines faced a strike threat by its pilots, with a prospect of an operational shutdown after a walkout deadline at midnight Tuesday.

Another labor dispute shut down the Studebaker-Packard automobile plant at South Bend, Ind., today where 7,000 United Auto Workers quit their jobs.

There were strikes also in the farm equipment and tractor industry involving 50,000 UAW employees of International Harvester and the Caterpillar Tractor Co.

The strike of 600 flight engineers at Eastern Air Lines was supported by unions representing some 7,000 other employees. Eastern started preparations for a complete shutdown of its operations in 25 states, Canada, Puerto Rico, Mexico and Bermuda could not continue.

Machinists refused to cross the engineers' picket lines and said they also were on strike.

In particular, the strike at Eastern hit the heavy seasonal migration of winter vacationers to Florida. The engineers object to an airline demand that they take pilot training. Wages and working conditions also were in dispute.

The TWA strike, which idled some 12,000 employees besides the 6,700 striking members of the International Assn. of Machinists, was the subject of a special government mediation effort.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service sent one of its top negotiators to the airlines Kansas City headquarters to seek a settlement.

As labor troubles also beset small airline companies, Capital Airlines resumed partial service after ending a 47-day strike by 2,000 machinists. Normal passenger traffic was expected to be resumed Wednesday.

Capital machinists accepted a 44-cent-an-hour increase over a three-year period, bringing their pay to $2.85 an hour. A TWA spokesman said the company's final wage offer was almost the same as accepted by machinists of Capital and Northwest Airlines.

The union's last contract with TWA provided for wages ranging from $1.45 an hour for flight attendants to $2.81 for machinists with 49 years' experience.

At Indianapolis 99 employees of Lake Central Airlines struck at midnight in a dispute over wages. They hoped pilots would refuse to carry their planes and force the company to back down.

The union's demand for a 10 percent wage increase in air attendants and Eastern pilots. It also asked for a 10 percent increase in the pay of flight attendants and Eastern pilots.

Black Bear Is Killed at Springdale

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 250-pound black bear was killed at Springdale last night. And another bear showed up at Bald Knob in White County yesterday afternoon but went back to the woods unharmed.

The incidents were the latest in a several week old series involving bears since two showed up at Jonesboro on consecutive days. Since then bear sightings have been reported in several sections of Arkansas, and two of the animals appeared at Memphis.

The Springdale bear was the first one killed. No effort has been made to kill the other animals.

Carl Donner of Springdale discovered the bear in the carport of his home. Officers were called and they lassoed the animal but couldn't hold him.

The bear broke away and climbed a tree. Officers finally decided to kill the animal and Sheriff Joe Means of nearby Benton County shot him.

The meat will be given to the Washington County Home.

The black bear which wandered into Bald Knob took refuge under a vacant house. Police unsuccessfully

California, LSU, TCU Win Bids to Bowls

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Louisiana State and California, a couple of ragamuffin outfits last year that could win only half a dozen games between them, were high in college football's top society today preparing for important bowl assignments on New Year's Day.

Last year, Louisiana State had a 5-5 record and finished seventh in the Southeastern Conference. This year, the Tigers have the only undefeated record in the conference.

They'll be the hosts in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans by virtue of having won their conference title. It will be their first bowl appearance since 1950 when they were slaughtered by Oklahoma 55-0 in the Sugar Bowl.

LSU swept past 10 opponents and didn't stumble once. They wound up their first undefeated season since 1908 Saturday by grinding out a 20-0 victory over Tulane.

Their Sugar Bowl opponent may not be known until next Saturday when the first sprinkling of games are played. Southern Methodist is being considered, but the Mustangs will have to beat Cotton Bowl-bound Texas Christian, otherwise, Clemson, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, probably will get the bid.

As for California, the Bears compiled a miserable 1-9 record in 1957. They were consigned to the scrap heap in this the final year of the Pacific Coast Conference as it now stands.

But after losing to College of the Pacific and Michigan State, they suddenly caught on to the split-T year. They lost only one more game and wrapped up the title with a breathless 16-15 triumph over Stanford.

Porkers Close Over Texas Tech With Victory

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference football campaign reaches its weary close this week with only second place to be determined—Texas Christian is champion and looking toward the Cotton Bowl.

The Horned Frogs won the title last week when they beat Rice 21-10, gaining their fifth conference victory and a two-game lead with one game left to play.

Rice, Southern Methodist, Texas and Texas A&M all are in the battle for second place or a share of it.

Texas and Texas A&M meet in the 65th renewal of their ancient series at Austin Thursday. They currently are tied for fourth in the standings with 2-3 records.

Saturday Texas Christian and Southern Methodist close out at Dallas while Rice and Baylor wind up at Waco. Rice and SMU are tied to second place.

Southern Methodist would like to beat Texas Christian and end up with a 6-4 record because it might get SMU in a bowl game. The Sugar Bowl reportedly is eyeing the Methodists with prospects of inviting them if they should beat TCU.

Baylor would like to beat Rice so it won't finish alone in the cellar. In that event the Golden Bears would be Arkansas and the loser of the Texas-Texas A&M game for the last spot in the standings.

Texas Tech, which didn't compete for the championship but played five members of the conference, will end the season against the University of Houston at Houston. Tech and Baylor are tied for last in the full season standings with 2-6 records.

Southern Methodist flashed its old self Saturday in a 33-29 triumph over Baylor.

Arkansas closed the season with a 14-8 victory over Texas Tech. It was the Razorbacks' fourth straight win in one of the great comebacks of conference history.

Unitas Leads Pro Colts to Win Over Rams

By JIM KNSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Unitas, a Colt with a 45 for a passing arm, is healthy again.

He proved it Sunday, shooting down the title bid of the Los Angeles Rams and passing Baltimore to a 34-7 victory. It was the Colts' eighth triumph in nine National Football League games. Baltimore now leads the Western Conference by two games with only three to play.

And Bobby Mitchell, Paul Brown's young speedster, is zooming toward acclaim as pro football's Rookie of the Year.

He looked it Sunday, shaking loose for a 98-yard touchdown run on the opening kickoff, then coming back in the same period with a 69-yard score on a punt return as the Cleveland Browns whipped the Philadelphia Eagles 28-14.

Cleveland, with a 7-2 record, leads the Eastern Conference by one game with three remaining.

The New York Giants kept a game behind Cleveland with a 30-0 victory over the Washington Redskins, and the Pittsburgh Steelers won their game for the year, hanging on to the Giants' tail with a 27-20 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals.

In the West, the Chicago Bears took over sole possession of second place by beating the Detroit Lions 20-7 while Los Angeles faltered. The Lions' defeat eliminated the defending world champions from title consideration. The San Francisco 49ers moved past them into fourth place with a 33-12 victory over the last-place Green Bay Packers.

Unitas, who suffered two cracked ribs in the Green Bay game three weeks ago, lit that spark the first time he passed. Dodging tackles behind scrambling Lennie Moore on the line, he and the ex-Penn State halfback kept going for the score.

The play gave Unitas 22 straight NFL games in which he has passed for at least one TD. The record is 23.

It was Unitas' 13th scoring pass of the season, and he later made it 14 by hitting Jim Mitchell with a 21-yard TD pass in the Colts' 12-point fourth period. In that same period, Unitas scored on a one-yard plunge. He passed for 218 yards over-all, connecting on 14 of 20.

Tigers Taste Defeat Again in Final Game

The luckless Yergor Tigers closed out the season Friday night at El Dorado and took it on the chin again, this time by a top-sided score of 52 to 7.

The El Dorado boys wasted little time and started riling up a score right from the start. By the half it was 20 to 0. In fact the Hornets made it 39 to 0 before the Tigers were able to reach the scoreboard in the third quarter. Edwards passed to McFadden for the only Hope tally. In the final quarter the Hornets continued scoring to hang a 52 to 7 deficit on the Hope boys.

Even in losing the Tigers made 201 yards rushing, drew four penalties, completed three of 12 passes for 60 yards. The Hornets had 406 yards rushing and made six of nine passes good for 98 yards.

Hope players were Dennis, Pearson, McFadden, Reed, Scott, Edwards, John Dennis, Knox, Witherspoon, Warren, Brandon, Dee, Rutherford, Turner and Nelson.

Supper Club Burns at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — An early morning fire destroyed the Pine Supper Club at Pine Bluff today. Estimated loss was about $100,000.

No one was injured in the blaze of undetermined origin.

The club built four years ago was owned by J. B. Maxine and Bonnie Brown, widely known as dancing artists, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, their parents.

Floyd Brown said the loss might exceed the $100,000 figure.

The one-story brick building was built around the city limits on U.S. Highway 64 North.

Hays' Defeat Called Tragic by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — "There was no more tragic result of this last election, from the standpoint of the nation, than your defeat in Arkansas," Vice President Richard Nixon has written Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.).

Hays, a racial moderate, was defeated for reelection in Arkansas' Fifth Congressional District by Dr. Dale Alford, a segregationist member of the Little Rock School Board.

In a letter to Hays, Nixon wrote: "When statesmanship of the type you represent in such an exemplary way becomes the victim of demagoguery and prejudice, it is time for men of good will in both major parties in all sections of the country to exert more positive leadership in developing the public understanding on the issue of civil rights which is essential if America is to continue to be a nation of responsible laws rather than irresponsible men."

Nixon's office made excerpts from the vice president's letter public upon request.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon says Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), defeated by a strong segregationist, was a "victim of demagoguery and prejudice."

Nixon expressed his regret in a letter to Hays, saying: "I can say without qualification that there was no more tragic result of this last election, from the standpoint of the nation, than your defeat in Arkansas."

Hays, who says he is a moderate on the segregation issue, was beaten for reelection Nov. 4 by Dr. Dale Alford, an avowedly strong foe of the Supreme Court's decision against school segregation. Alford ran as a write-in candidate in winning the Little Rock district Hays has represented for 16 years.

The vice president said in part: "When statesmanship of the type you represent in such an exemplary way becomes the victim of demagoguery and prejudice, it is time for men of good will in both major parties in all sections of the country to exert more positive leadership in developing the public understanding on the issue of civil rights which is essential if America is to continue to be a nation of responsible laws rather than irresponsible men."

Woman Hires Man to Kill Friend's Wife

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A 22-year-old social worker is charged with hiring a man to kill the wife of a state highway patrolman she loved. The man she allegedly hired for $500 turned out to be a police detective.

The intended murder was not committed. The highway patrolman was not implicated. Barbara Ann Messer was released under $1,000 bond after her arrest and arraignment yesterday.

The warrant for her arrest charged that she hired a Charlotte Detective Richard Ruth to murder Mrs. Frances Smith, mother of two children, for $500. Police seized this amount.

Messers hired a man in Charlotte about two weeks ago to murder someone for the job of killing Mrs. Smith. The man who acted was a police informant who notified Detective Ruth.

Ruth met Miss Messer Nov. 15. He showed her a hidden camera which she used to take a picture of Police said Miss Messer was not arrested until Sunday since officials had not decided on the charges to be placed against her.

Charlotte Solicitor (Prosecutor) W. H. Sparrowhawk said the charges is a misdemeanor, carrying a maximum sentence of two years.

State Highway Patrol Lt. S. L. Willard said Mrs. Smith is the wife of Patrolman Benson Smith of the Greensboro town, who resigned from the force Saturday.

Patrol Col. James B. Smith (no relation) said at Raleigh that the brother "had a splendid record and had been an outstanding member of the patrol."

As a high school student, Miss Messer won the national Knights of Pathless public speaking contest in St. Louis, Mo. in 1955, and was awarded a $1,000 scholarship.

At Greensboro, Collier said she had the abolition to a 1955 meeting and the alleged Wake Forest Law School for a year.

Unbeaten and Untied List Slim

Only Mississippi Southern and Arizona State of Plagstaff, of perfect record class, have regular season games remaining.

Says Flight Engineers to Strike Next

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A union spokesman says 600 flight engineers for Eastern Air Lines will strike today. The company says this may shut down service throughout its system.

A spokesman for the Flight Engineers' International Assn. said here that the strike would come during the morning.

Eastern said if the strike occurs and other union groups honor picket lines, service will be halted throughout the system. The line employs 16,000 persons in serving 124 cities in 25 states, Canada, Puerto Rico, Mexico and Bermuda.

Main issue in the long-debated contract is an objection by the season games remaining.

Louisiana State is the only major school on the list, winding up a 10-0 slate with a 62-0 walloping of Tulane Saturday.

Arizona State has won 10 games while Mississippi Southern has brushed aside eight opponents.

Also unbeaten in 10 games were St. Benedict's, Northeastern Oklahoma, Gustavus Adolphus, Wheaton, Kearney and Chadron.

Rose Poly, California (Pa.), Rochester, Sevanee and Missouri Valley all finished unbeaten in eight games.

Little Men Do Quite Well Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—A couple of Saturday's heroes would need a ladder to hang out today's football wash.

There was 159-pound Charlie Ravenel, Harvard's riveboul quarterback who scored one and set up three other TD's in the Crimson's 28-0 thumping of Yale. And Billy Austin, Rutgers' brilliant fullback who lists at 108 but looks like the high school kid down the block. Akers Leads Punt Return Department

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Those yard-eating twins of Baylor—runner Larry Hickman and passer Buddy Humphrey—have regained their leads in Southwest Conference football statistics but there's a mighty battle brewing in the final week of the campaign. Jack Spikes of Texas Christian has only 40 yards away from Hickman in the "ball-eating" race. Charley Milstead of Texas A&M and Donald Meredith of Southern Methodist are hot on the heels of Humphrey for the passing championship.

Hickman shot back to the top last week when he racked up 80 yards against Southern Methodist while Spikes was gaining only 30 against Rice. Now the Baylor fullback has 583 yards on 134 runs and Spikes shows 543 on 115.

The battle in passing is the hottest of them all. Humphrey leads in completions, with 90 out of 152 throws, while Milstead tops in distance with 74 connections out of 134 for 944 yards to 929 for Humphrey. Meredith has 60 completions out of 103 attempts for 907 yards. He can hardly hope to beat out Humphrey in completions but might do it in yardage.

Meredith also is endangering Milstead's lead in total offense. The Aggie star has 1180 yards on 233 plays, Meredith 1112 on 104. Henry Christopher of Southern Methodist continues to top the punters with an average of 40.4 on 21 kicks.

Freddy Akers of Arkansas has regained the lead in punt returns with an average of 11.4 compared to 11.2 for Jon Pew of the Aggies. John Tracey of Texas A&M didn't play last week but retained a long lead in pass-receiving.

Southern Methodist again took over the lead in team total offense, running its average to 329.3 yards per game. Texas Christian fell to second with 316.0. TCU still is the defensive leader, allowing 207.0 yards per game.

at 16-15 while 81,492 shuddered at Berkeley. The Indians gambled on a run for two points and victory. Cal stopped it short.

Quote of the week: "Warren Rabb is the best quarterback we've seen all season," said LSU Coach Paul Dietzel. "A noble opponent? Nope. Rabb quarterbacks LSU."

How to lose: The poor boys of Columbia (beaten 61-0 by Rutgers), Tulane (beaten 62-0 by LSU), and the Citadel (beaten 76-0 by Georgia).

DeGaulle Wins Confidence of French Voters

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—Premier De Gaulle, without having lifted a finger in the campaign, won another strong endorsement from the French people in first-round voting Sunday for the new National Assembly.

With many candidates trying to ride De Gaulle's coattails, outright foes of the Premier made the poorest showing.

A strong rightist swing was accompanied by a Communist decline, though the anti-Gaullist Communists were still the strongest single party. Red chief Jean Jacques Duclos faced a stiff fight in the runoff next Sunday. The De Gaulle tide swamped such non-Communist foes as former Premier Pierre Mendes-France and Maurice Bourgès-Maunoury. Both lost their Assembly seats on the first ballot. It boomed to second rank—after the Communists—a brand new De Gaulist party, the Union for the New Republic (UNR) headed by Information Minister Jacques Soustelle. This was the clearest trend through only 41 of the 465 deputies from mainland France were elected by a majority vote over all opponents. The remainder will be chosen in runoffs next Sunday, when a winner will need only a plurality. With only 20,994,797 of the 28 million eligible bothering to vote, the Interior Ministry gave this breakdown of the results: Communists, elected 1 deputy, 3,862,204 popular votes, 18.98 per cent of the vote. UNR, 8 deputies, 3,603,956 votes, 17.6 per cent. Socialists, 2 deputies, 3,167,354 votes, 15.5 per cent. Independents, mostly rightists, 15 deputies, 2,816,176 votes, 13.74 per cent. The remaining votes were scattered among 14 other parties and groups. The Communist percentage compared with 25.6 in the last general election of 1956, and the Red popular vote compared with their peak strength of 5 1/2 million votes in 1946. They held 142 seats in the old Assembly. Projection of the trend could cut the Communists to below 30 seats. De Gaulle lent his name officially to none of the candidates. But with issues few, candidates of all stripes grabbed his coattails as the most attractive thing in sight. Benefiting most was the empire-minded Soustelle, who helped boost De Gaulle back to power last May during the rightist rebellion in Algeria.

Hope Star's Newsboy Tour of the Golden West—August 17-29, 1958

Last August Hope Star took five Hope boys on an educational tour of the Golden West. The boys saw the bears in Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming, and the Indian cliff-dwellings in Mesa Verde National Park, southwestern Colorado.

Publisher Alex. H. Washburn took 230 black-and-white and 300 color photographs of the 4,602-mile tour. The best of the black-and-white will be presented in a 16-page pictorial tabloid on which the newspaper organization is now at work.

The tabloid will be printed on 45-pound Oxford book paper — a separate insert of beautiful appearance and permanency.

It will have an enduring appeal to the local public because of its interest to youth—the Hope Star newsboys and all their young friends—and to adults as well, because a surprising number of local people have made this tour and in this tabloid section they will find professional pictures of the places they themselves visited.

This Newsboys Tour of the Golden West Edition offers an unparalleled opportunity for institutional or brand name advertising by local industries and business houses — a compact and beautiful tabloid section which will be preserved for years to come.

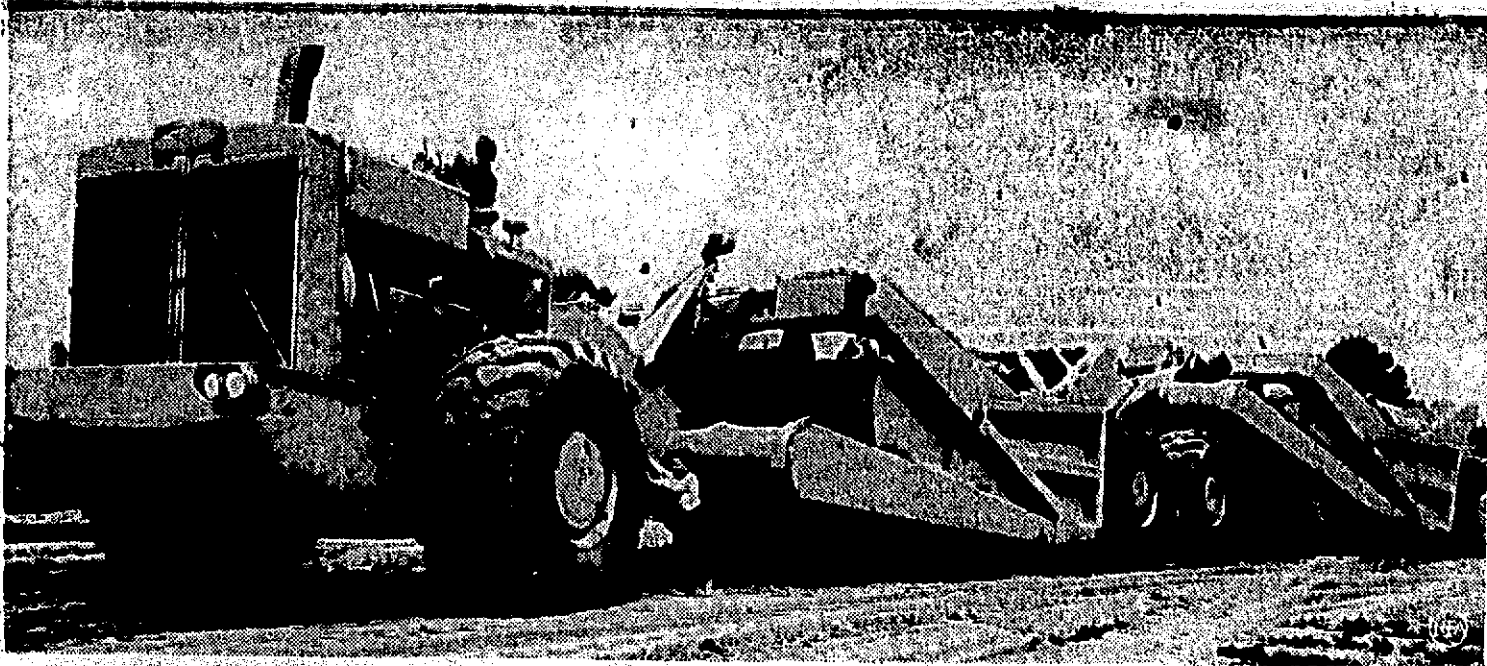

No more than half of the 16 pages will be available for advertising.

The Star is arranging for a special purchase of this magazine book paper and matching ink, on complete technical advice; however, if excessive ink smear or other technical problems makes its use impossible we reserve the right to produce the pictorial edition on standard newsprint — and swallow our $100 gamble! In any event, it will be a production Hope is bound to be proud of. Twenty-two years ago the librarian of the Alamo at San Antonio, Texas, wrote the Editor that our Arkansas Centennial was the best historical edition produced in either Arkansas or Texas in 1936.

The Golden West Tabloid section will be included in the regular edition of the Star on the date of issue, but the section will also be sold separately at 5c per copy.

Many folks will want to mail the Tabloid to distant friends, and request for extra copies should be made now so we can be guided as to our press run.

MOVING MOUNTAINS—Termed the biggest of all the big earth movers, this new, 100-foot-long behemoth can gobble up 130 tons of earth, move it to any location and spread it. Powered by two 600-horsepower diesel engines, the machine has a top speed of 16 m.p.h. The builders, R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., of Longview, Tex., claim that by using 86 such machines and 172 operators the Panama Canal could have been built in one-fourth the time. Cost is in excess of $200,000.

Chapter 31

The silence was the most harrowing part of it, the part that made her want to bolt back to her own room. She had to break the silence; she had to say something, or do something, and as she came into the dining room, not looking at them, her head hanging down heavily, helplessly, she said in a high, thin, unnatural voice, "I'm sorry I'm late."

Neither of them answered her. She went around to her place at the side of the table and pulled out her chair and sat down, her head still drooping. She unfolded her napkin, and said, still in that thin voice, "Did you go to church?"

Paul said, "Yes," his deep-voice sounding like a bell in the silent room, and Katherine looked up for the first time.

That one word seemed to provoke a change in the atmosphere; it was almost as if it were a signal agreed upon in advance. The air seemed cleared, and Katherine, having been so frightened, so particularly afraid of everything around her—people, moods, inanimate objects—and everything inside her, too, welcomed even the most superficial change, the deceitful pretense of friendliness among her enemies.

She had looked up just in time to catch an exchange of glances between Paul and Aunt Millicent—glances which she could not interpret, but which must, she knew, have some bearing on the danger, the planning that went on between them when she wasn't there—but then before she could assimilate any of it, Aunt Millicent was saying, "Darling, you really ought to have come with us, you know. I mean, after all, it's very important to go to church. I certainly always take Bunks and Piggy with me. Every single Sunday. And of course, they love it. They simply love it, darling. And when we get home we all sit down and discuss the sermon."

Paul said deeply, not showing his teeth, foot frowning, in what sounded almost like his friendliest voice, "I don't think she'll be hurt by missing church just this once."

"Oh, no, of course not. That wasn't what I meant at all. It's just the principle of the thing, you see. She was simply worn out, poor darling. She needed rest more than anything else."

Amy pushed open the swinging door and began bringing in the food—fried chicken, mashed potatoes, green beans, gravy, biscuits—setting it in front of Paul, waiting for him to serve. (To Be Continued) plates, and then handing them around. Aunt Millicent said, "As a matter of fact, darling, you're still looking a little bit peaked. And all those bruises I suppose you got those scrambling around on the roof all day yesterday. But your color doesn't look very good, either." She paused, and then gave vent to the great superstition, "Well, you'll feel better after you've eaten."

Katherine almost bit her tongue. She had started to admit that she'd had breakfast, that she'd been to see Mr. Wetherby. Amy said, "No, ma'am, she wouldn't eat a thing."

"What time did you get up?" said Aunt Millicent. Her voice was as smooth and as sweet as chocolate.

"I don't know," Amy said. "Must have been about 11 o'clock, I guess."

"It wasn't that late," said Katherine. "I'd been up a long time before Amy saw me."

She thought desperately: I've got to lie. I've got to confuse them so they won't know what I've really been doing. I'll be safe as long as they don't know who I've been talking to, or how much I've told. "Well, it's good for you to sleep late once in a while. And you felt so terrible last night, yes, you did. I could tell. But you'll feel just fine by tomorrow."

Amy went back to the kitchen. It didn't matter that she was doing just what they wanted her to do, that she was playing into their hands. She had, at least, the pleasure of relaxing and lying back.

she laid down her spoon and pushed back her chair. She supposed the time was approaching. Aunt Millicent said, "All finished, darling?"

"Yes." "Well, then let's go in the living room so Amy can clean up, shall we? Are you ready, Paul?"

"Yes." "Oh, just look at the time. Why didn't somebody tell me it was this late? But my watch is fast, isn't it? What about that clock? Is it right? Come on, now, let's turn on the radio."

And then the announcer's voice springing out among them with that faintly mechanical overtone: "... afternoon's all-Brahms program will begin with a performance of the Academic Festival Overture."

Katherine thought: What's the matter? Why are they waiting? Why don't they go ahead and do it? And then in one second she knew the answer.

The kitchen door opened and Amy came out. She had on her blue hat with the roses around it, and she was carrying her red umbrella. She said, "Well, I guess I'm ready to go now. The things for supper are all in the icebox. Is there anything you want me to do in town?"

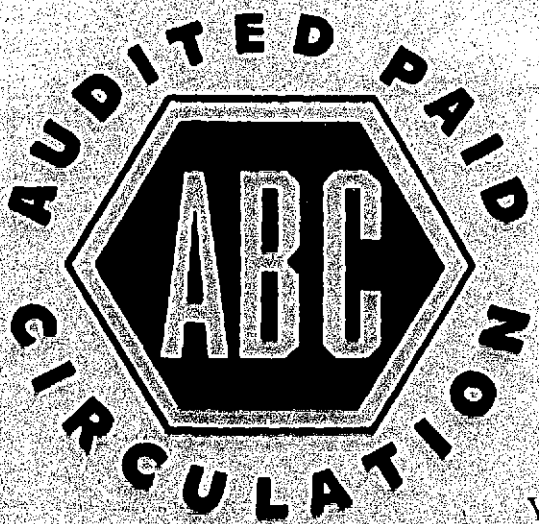

"I don't think of anything." "Well, I better hurry or I'll miss my bus. See you in the morning. But I'll probably be in early this evening."

"Have a nice time," said Paul. Katherine had altogether forgotten that Sunday was Amy's afternoon off.
